

Please do not allow the use of cell phones in commercial aircraft. In tight quarters of an airplane cabin there is no way to escape from passengers who are making loud, lengthy cell phone calls. Crying babies are hard enough to tolerate on a long flight, but I think the flying public would find adults who make cell calls intolerable. Most of us want to get on the plane and have a quiet trip. Thank you.